The IT company has become Official Suppliers to the soccer team

It was a soggy debut that ended in victory for Nova Systems at the side of Hellas Verona FC. The Information & Communication Technology company, which has always been linked to the world of sport, has become one of the Verona company's Official Suppliers with the BeOne software solution.

The 2-0 victory over Ternana revitalised the ambitions of the yellow-and-blues and marked the start of a new adventure for Nova Systems, which plans to support the team and the city all the way to the Premier League.
