Nova Systems consolidates its presence in France by taking part in SITL

International Business Development Director Forapan: "The BeOne solution is confirmed as a benchmark for the sector"

Nova Systems is consolidating its presence in France. The Information & Communication Technology company recently took part in SITL, the international transport and logistics trade fair that was held in the Parc des Expositions Paris-Nord Villepinte in Paris. In an event where the main theme was innovation, Nova Systems welcomed the opportunity to present to the French market the BeOne in-Cloud solution, the administrative database created specifically for international shipping, transport, customs and logistics agencies.

"Following the opening of our offices in Place Vendôme in Paris, we took part in Sitl because we are interested in being present on French territory. Besides, for us, innovating is what we do. We always seek to be one step ahead in the use of the latest technologies and that's why the event was an important opportunity to engage with other organisations in the sector," explained Nova Systems' International Business Development Director, Silvano Forapan. At Sitl, the company took part, with BeOne's CRM, in the prize for the best innovation in the transport and logistics sector. "We had confirmation that BeOne stands as a benchmark for the sector in the international panorama," added Forapan, "since it is one of the few Suites that is truly integrated with all the functionality required by those who work in international shipping, transport, customs and logistics."
